The donations came from Victoria's Pizza, Kraus USA, Wise Espresso Bar, the Zagorodnyuk family, First Construction Zone, Designer Daydream, and the Gordin family.

Her son Kashif Hussain, the NYC deputy public advocate, is still working round the clock to help the community through this, as he grieves her. Patzer felt he needed to honor that by doing his part with the help of others.

Wednesday, April 8th, 2020 – Major donation to Brooklyn hospitals/delivery of 5,000+ masks, 10,000 gloves and hundreds of meals purchased locally to Brooklyn Hospital first responders and police precincts.

Brooklyn, NY, April 7, 2020: On April 8th, the Zagorodnyuk family and community activist Steven Patzer will deliver over 5,000 N95 and surgical masks, 10,000 gloves, 400 pairs of overalls and nearly 500 meals divided among five Southern Brooklyn hospitals and police precincts. The exact counts per hospital and times of the delivery are listed at the bottom of this release.

Donations came from local Brooklyn businesses and families: Victoria's Pizza, Kraus USA, Wise Espresso Bar, the Zagorodnyuk family, First Construction Zone, Designer Daydream, and the Gordin family.

During the pandemic, Patzer has hosted virtual job fairs for essential worker positions to be filled, hand-delivered thousands of meals to Brooklyn and Harlem residents, and is also hosting a virtual health fair to help locals build immunity.

"I'm grateful to be healthy enough to serve my community and gather support from the community during difficult times," says Patzer, who is also a city council candidate for District 47. "I'm even more grateful for the first responders who need and deserve protective equipment and our gratitude."

"We can't win this battle without our teams of first responders," says Dmitry Zagorodnyuk. "We must show support for the workers & heroes who are risking their lives for ours."
